MELTY BLOOD

AWWW-
WE RUN BASED ON THE FOLLOWING ASSUMPTION "WHAT IF" YUMIZUKA SATSUKI EXISTED AFTER BECOMING A DEAD APOSTLE?
WELL... AS YOU MAY BE AWARE, IT IS AN INDISPUTABLE FACT WITHIN TSUKIHIME CANON THAT SHE IS TOTALLY DEAD...
IN THIS REIMAGINING THIS "IF" WORLD, IF YOU WILL...
SHION (ME) AND SATSUKI HIT IT RIGHT OFF, SINCE WE'RE BOTH TURNED INTO VAMPIRES, AND WE'RE BOTH HOMELESS
FOR THE SAKE OF MY FRIEND AND MYSELF, I DECIDED AGAINST RETURNING TO ATLAS.
INSTEAD, I STAYED IN JAPAN IN SEARCH OF A WAY TO REVERSE THE VAMPIRZATION PROCESS.
Are you all right, Satsuki?
TO DEAL WITH THE HARDSHIP AND INADEQUACY OF LIVING ON THE STREET, WE FORMED THE MUTUAL AID GROUP, "BACK ALLEY ALLIANCE"
Wait... Satsuki! You're drawing too much attention!
AFTER THAT, WE GRADUALLY EXPANDED WITH THE ADDITION OF THE RESURRECTED RIES FROM "ACTRESS AGAIN" AND WHITE REN, WHO MADE HER DEBUT IN "RE-ACT"...
I'm actually not that interested in joining a group ♥
FIGHTING WISE, WE ENHANCED OUR ARSENAL WITH THE ADDITION OF ROA, THE "SNAKE OF AKASHA" THAT WOULD MAKE ANYONE FEEL THREATENED, RIGHT?

WE ARE FINALLY GROWING TO BECOME AN ENTITY WITHIN THE TSUKI-HIME WORLD THAT CAN NO LONGER BE IGNORED!
THANKS TO VARIOUS MEDIA PRODUCTIONS SUCH AS THE DRAMA CD COMING OUT, THE WIND IS NOW AT OUR BACKS!
THAT'S "BACK ALLEY ALLIANCE" FOR YOU!!!

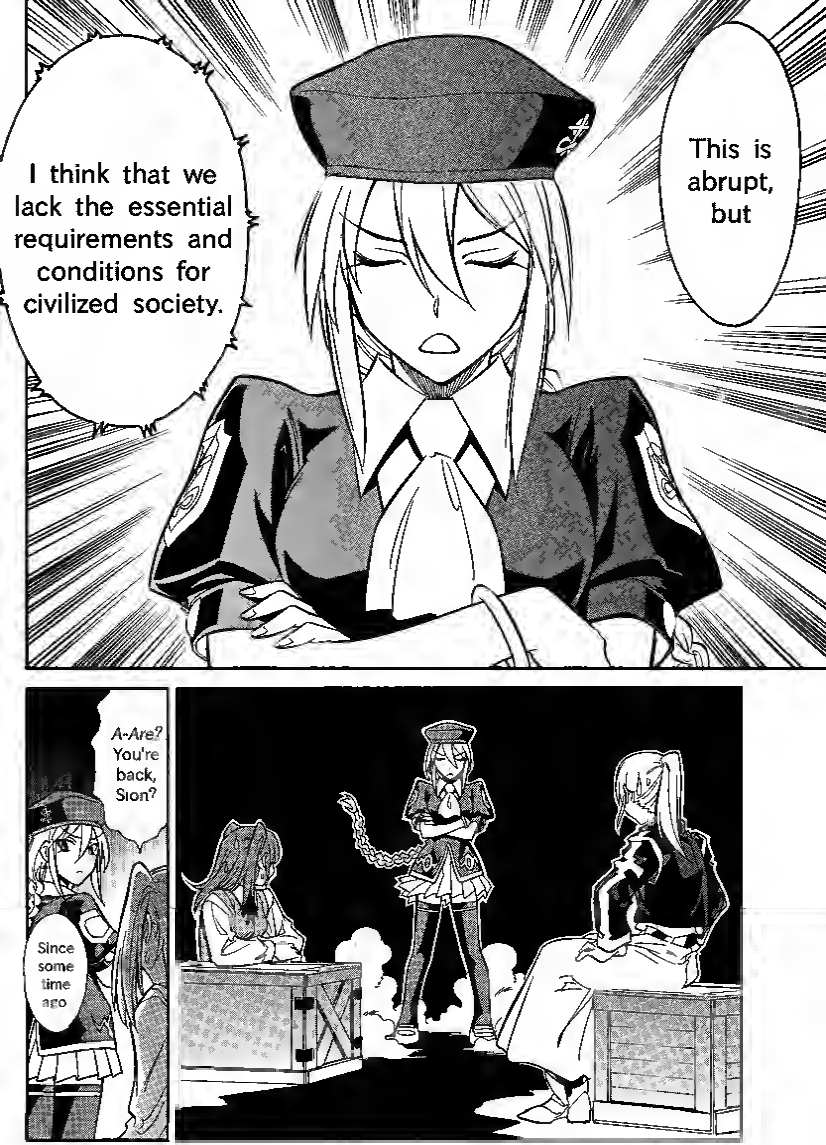
A, are!?
No… This is…
It's fine, so please hurry up and put them on!!
Really now when it comes to Japan's summer this year I just don't know what's happened
That is true ne



This is abrupt, but
I think that we lack the essential requirements and conditions for civilized society.
A-Are? You're back, Sion?
Since some time ago

The point being the topic of the conversation is "the necessities of life"
Concerning clothing and food the issue hereafter is,
for bidding farewell to this pleasant and comfortable back alley life what sort of residence is necessary?
Please tell me you two's opinions

What happened, Sion that you're asking so suddenly?
Well, that's… Since here the rain falls and it's dusty, and the summers are saunas and the winters are freezers
In any case, our current daily existence—this is not so bad the way it is, I think.
That's right. Since they say that "home is where you make it."♥
……
If we're together, our household will be fun.♪
Un…I think so as well.
Ahahha
あはは
——However, I want you to think about it.
…As for that opinion, I have no room for objections, ne.

and as appropriate, by means of my former status, circumstances, and well-equipped facilities, I would have likely put my all into research
Originally, I was a candidate for the next director
"Suppose that"—— Suppose that I,
「after TATARI had not met with Satsuki and had returned to ATLAS」 or so?
If she returns to the Church would be a distinguished Knight of the Sanctuary after being set free from TATARI, is protecting me And here, without exception, Even Rites,
Um…えーと
Ha?
はっ?
Un うん
Un うん Satsuki also……
If she had not been transformed into a vampire she should have had an ordinary daily life
"Well"
まあ!?
……Well.

.....
It is not necessary to be concerned with that point
I have prepared a robot that will completely automatically carry it out from the synthesis of materials to execution
Indeed even if we desire a daily life that is a little bit better, we probably won't be punished
But Sion we don't have the means to support that What's left is the input of you two's hopes, since if the building is set, it is able to automatically make an addition to it!

Of course it will be free.
Then that means, we won't have to deal with money?
REALLY!?
SFX Pi (Quickly raising)
However given there is the typical constraint of space the circumstances are such that expanding limitlessly is not something that can be done, but-
The very first thing said, and there is NO restraint, ne.
That's you.

here there are a bit too many noisy disturbances
If that's the case, I kind of want a CONCERT HALL, you know.♪

Isn't it fine to try asking a little bit.
Even for me, at the Church, it's just that they had something like a practice room…
SFX: Gogogogo (Rumbling/Menacing)
I just felt like asking what your ideal living space is, but I don't think I felt like asking what your desires and lusts are?
No… That's right but…
Wouldn't it be fine to not have such a scary face?
…If you say that I'll get weak over here as well.
Understood
I shall consider something like a musical performance space
it would make me happy to have my room that I lived in before I came here, I think
As for me…If possible,
And as for Satsuki?

Understood
As for me I have no complaints about my current condition so I will dismantle and reconstruct as is
About how long will it take?
Do not be concerned with that Since it will be about 20 hours at most
The reconstruction can be done just like that!?
And yet it's faster than a moving company!?
If it will take a while, wouldn't it probably be bad if we don't find another place to nest?
Uoh!?
……Lately it seems that everyone has forgotten, but even though I may have this kind of an appearance, I am the most powerful and influential alchemist of the ATLAS institution!

SFX: Fu (Hmph)

TRANSLATOR NOTES

Pages 010 — "the necessities of life" (「"衣食住"」, ishokujuu) - The kanji in this word literally read as "clothing, food, living (i.e. shelter)". In other words, the three bare necessities of life (in civilized society, at least).

Page 011 — "Home is where you make it" (「住めば都」, sumeba miyako) - Alternatively, "you can get used to living anywhere", or "wherever you live is the best place to be". The literal Japanese meaning is something more like, "(If you) live in the city".

Page 013 — "we don't have the means to support that … " - The "means" here is "sakidatsumono" (「先立つ物」). In the Japanese, which is a euphemism for "money". In Japanese society, it's generally considered unsightly to talk about money openly, or to visibly handle money. That's why you'll often see people giving gifts of money in little money envelopes (so that the money is not "naked" and visible, and thus unsightly). Furthermore, in Japan, when people purchase things from stores at cashiers, they do not hand the money directly to the cashier because that is considered unsightly. Instead, cashiers have a little money tray, in which the customer places his money. The same goes for the cashier when giving the customer his change. What am I trying to say? Perhaps I am trying to give a reason why the Japanese would have a euphemism for the word "money".

Page 017 — "I will be a nuisance." - "ojamashimasu" (「お邪魔します」) is what Japanese people say when they enter another person's house. It literally means that they will be a nuisance (implying that the host should please excuse them for that).

Page 019 — "SimCity ... SimHouse" - Yes, the Japanese really does say SimCity and SimHouse. I did not localize anything.

"GETTO DAZE" (「ゲットだぜ」) - Literally means "GET", as in "to get" something. Generally considered a reference to Pocket Monsters, as Satoshi is typified as shouting out "GETTO DAZE" whenever he catches a Pokemon.

"a home with a garden" - The Japanese is written as "niwatsuki ikkodate" (「庭付き一戸建て」) in this panel, but the 'niwatsuki' kanji are usually read as "teiduki". The concept of "a home with a garden' has the implication of having a single-family house with a garden, as opposed to an apartment, or any other form of shared housing. Having a home with a garden is a generic dream for many Japanese families——to have "my home" that's a house with a garden (imagine how expensive that can get considering Japan's real estate market). It's kind of like the concept of "the American dream" (the home ownership dimension of it) in like the 1950s for any US readers here.

"「Ebiten」" - This is short for 「Ebiten Kouritsu Ebisugawa Koukou Tenmonbu」(「えびてん 公立海老栖川高校天誾部」, lit.「Ebiten - Ebisugawa Public High School Astronomy Club」), which is a manga serialized in Comp Ace. It is written by SUKAJI, and is illustrated by Inugami Kira. By the way, Inugami sensei does the art for the Sekai no Ichizon light novel series~~ So beautiful——(＊ Д)ﾊｧﾊｧ

Page 023 — "Moshi mo—shi?" (「もしもーし」) - Japanese telephone greeting, basically means "hello?"

General Notes — In general, the characters thus far in MELTY BLOOD X talk using the polite form. Satsuki seems to switch between polite and non-polite forms, likely because she previously had led the life of a normal girl. Riesbyfe and Sion talk in the polite form most of the time. Akiha has not spoken enough yet to really be able to make a judgment. However, Kohaku uses extremely polite language that not even Ries/Sion use. Of course, these kinds of differences in speech are very difficult to capture in English. I have tried to make things sound less casual (WITHOUT compromising translation purity and faithfulness) when characters use the polite form, but it's not always so obvious. Additionally, Sion occasionally tends to use interesting words and vocabulary that aren't too common in the daily conversation of the average Japanese. This is a generalization, but you likely understand.

Throughout the chapter, I use several Japanese expressions:

- "Are" (「あれ」) - This is an expression which basically means "Huh?"
- "ne" (「ね」) - Whenever "—, ne" shows up, this means that the character is ending her sentence with a "ne". There is really no English equivalent.
- 'Iya' (「いや」, 「イヤ」) - Basically a multi-use expression that means 'Well', or "You know", or "No, well", et cetera.

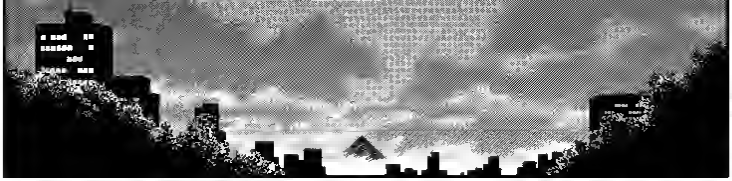
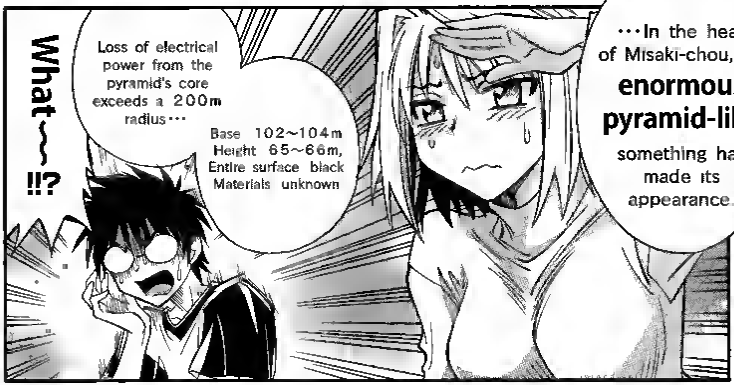
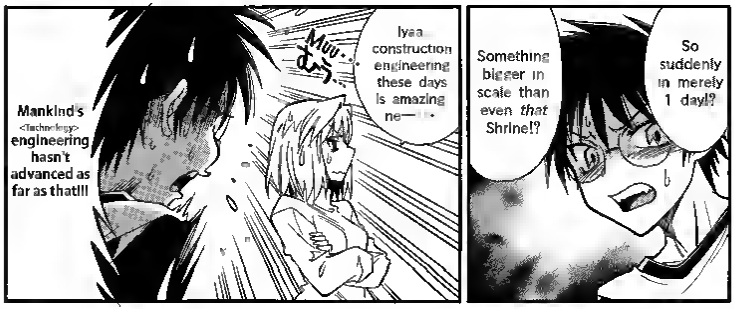
Summary of the previous instalment

Sion and the others live in the backalleys of Misaki-chou. One day Satsuki and Rea, who were taken in by Sion's proposal, were manipulated into improving their living quarters by means of a robot Sion developed. However, what those girls wanted for, in fact, was a spectacle that was unfashionable. And so, in the backalley, an enormous pyramid made its appearance——.



SFX Ooooooo





Kohaku●The older sister of the twins who serve the Tsuyuo Household.Cooking is her specialty.Bright and cheerful and bound to her feelings, compared to her little sister Hakuya.

As for the pyramid that suddenly made its appearance, to think the cause was the robot that Sion designed! In order to stop the pyramid that steadily continues its massive transformation, the party raided the inside of that pyramid. In the pitch black empty space, what awaited the ladies were nostalgic "pikopiko" electronic sounds, and an "if one misses his footing" instant death rule attached to a staircase that was suspended in midair.

"But it is dangerous!?" - "Abunou gozaimasu!?" (「危のうございますよ！？」) - Kohaku speaks here in a new (relatively, obviously the fad is at least several years old now) kind of "Toukyou dialect" popular in Toukyou where speakers combine adjectival u-sound conjunctive forms with the polite "gozaimasu." Look, if you don't know what I am talking about then don't worry about it.

"YukiOODaifuku" = "Yukishio Daifuku" (雪O大福 = 雪塩大福) is this

"That's right! I myself am Neco-Arc!!!!" - "Sou　wagahai ha NECOARUKU!!!!" (「そうソ　我が輩はネコアルク！！！！」) - Wanted to point out the "wagahai" here which is a really arrogant way to refer to oneself. Usually reserved for the Impenal family.

"Ah, / thank you—" - "A ／ gottsande—su" (「あ　／　ごっつぁんでーす」) - This is sumou (as in the Japanese sport) slang for "thanks"

"…Gross-cute…" - 'Kimokawa" (「キモカワ」) - Ries uses some slang here that is a combination of "kimoi" and "kawaii" which basically means "gross and cute" at the same time. She is obviously talking about Neco-Arc.

"Guro…adorable" - "Guro[illegible]ai" (「グロ・・・・・・愛」) - "Guro" is short for grotesque. Similar idea of "opposite" charactenstics being put together as "kimokawa" above. I put 'adorable" instead of "love" because Ries is actually saying "guro airashii," but doesn't say the full thing.

"Somebody, a-nya-body, this Rock-nya-man expression of love—" - The "Rock-nya-man' here is obviously referring to Rockman (called Megaman or something in the United States)
